

Schlieren

The collimated beam is focused to a point, but it is off axis

Schlieren

The focused point is off axis, so it passes through one filter more than the other. The color on the screen changes, though it is still uniform because all rays pass through the same spot of the filter.

